Positive Behaviour Support in Schools

The 'TaSDi-PBS' final conference aims to introduce the implementation of the SWPBIS approach in European schools, in attempt to create effective and inclusive European schoolwide frameworks that promote social inclusion and academic engagement.

The event addresses different groups of stakeholders, while specifically focusing on educators.

The conference will focus on disseminating the 'TaSDi-PBS project results' through case studies. The plenary conference talk titled Creating Safe and Positive School Environments: The School-Wide Positive Behavior Supports Framework, will be followed by the Introduction to the TaSDi-PBS project and information on the PBIS – European Association.

By means of case studies and panel discussions, different aspects of SWPBIS approach implementation in European schools will be discussed.

Audience

The conference's target audience are educational institutions, public institutions, teachers, and other educational experts interested in the area of implementation of preventive approaches in education and teacher training.
